COVID-19 UPDATE: Friday, February 11, 2022

Monoclonal Antibody Treatment at Northern Arizona Healthcare

Northern Arizona Healthcare is offering monoclonal antibody (mAB) treatment for COVID-19 at dedicated clinics in Flagstaff and Cottonwood with appointments for treatment available as early as February 10, 2022. Physicians at the mAB treatment clinics will be administering Sotrovimab, which is the most effective option for treating the Omicron variant. Monoclonal antibody treatments, which are administered via an intravenous infusion, can help reduce the severity of COVID-19 symptoms as well as reduce the risk that a patient may need to be admitted to a hospital for care and treatment. Monoclonal antibody treatments will be offered at no cost to patients who receive this care. Monoclonal antibody treatment for COVID-19 is available by appointment only. At this time, mAB infusion is reserved for patients over 65 or those with certain high-risk conditions. To speak with a member of the mAB team, determine eligibility and schedule an appointment, please call 928-773-2301 or 1-833-708-0894.
